

2012 Herbicide Resistant Weed Meeting

Mark your calendars now to attend the 2012 Herbicide Resistant Weed meetings. These meetings will cover the latest information on the spread and control of glyphosate resistant weeds (and other herbicide resistant weeds) in Indiana, and how to make your weed management programs more effective.

Wednesday, February 29th 2012
Community United Methodist Church
1548 S Hart Street Road, Vincennes
9-12pm Lunch will be provided

RSVP by February 24th by calling 812-882-3509, email: clingerman@purdue.edu, or send a message on the Purdue Extension Knox County Ag and Natural Resource Facebook page

Agenda:

- *Why has waterhemp become such a problematic weed?
 - Bill Johnson, Purdue University
- *Trials, tribulations, and triumphs with volunteer corn and its control
 - Paul Marquardt, Purdue University
- *Burndown programs for effective no-till in areas with glyphosate-resistant marestail
 - Bill Johnson, Purdue University
- *How spray water quality can impact herbicide applications
 - Gurinderbir Chahal or Jared Roskamp, Purdue University
- *Update from Monsanto company
 - Monsanto
- *New minibulk rules
 - Valerie Clingerman, Purdue University

PARP credits will be offered so remember your $10 and your pesticide license CCH credits (2) will be available for Category 1 and RT licenses.

Note: If you have any special needs, Please contact the Purdue Extension-Knox County office prior to the program

Sponsored by:

PURDUE AGRICULTURE

It is the policy of the Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service that all persons have equal opportunity and access to its educational programs, services, activities, and facilities without regard to race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or ancestry, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, disability or status as a veteran. Purdue University is an Affirmative Action institution. This material may be available in alternative formats.